

Shortage of senior medical officers?

The gaps and staff vacancies in your roster that cause so much pressure and put patients at risk can be closed right now with FACEMs from My Emergency Doctor.

My Emergency Doctor provides hospitals around Australia access to a team of FACEMs who complement and enhance support for on duty doctors and nurses.

We're supporting on-site clinical teams with access to specialist emergency physicians when you need them, whether it is by helping address surges in demand, supporting them for acute and complex patient presentations or relieving workforce shortages.

My Emergency Doctor's medical workforce is staffed entirely of Fellows of the Australasian College for Emergency Medicine (FACEMs). All are registered with the Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency (AHPRA).

Our team of over 70 FACEMs have significant experience working in health services in regional and rural Australia as well as in large metropolitan hospitals. They are among the finest emergency medicine doctors in Australia. Many have formerly run or currently run metropolitan EDs.

With My Emergency Doctor, they bring the experience and expertise to support on-site clinical teams to provide care for the most acutely unwell patients that present to any ED, Urgent Care Centre or Multipurpose Service around the country.

“ Being able to access specialists at My Emergency Doctor, is the best thing that has happened to us. It helps us manage acute patients and ensure they receive effective, timely and safe care. ”

Sharon Edmondson, Director of Nursing and Clinical Care, Corryong Health (VIC)

- ✓ Evidence of Fellowship status with ACEM
- ✓ AHPRA medical registration
- ✓ Evidence of Continuing Professional Development
- ✓ Medical Indemnity cover
- ✓ National criminal record checks
- ✓ Provider Number
- ✓ Reference checks
- ✓ Cultural competence training (ACEM)
- ✓ My Emergency Doctor telemedicine training program
- ✓ Medical quality underpinned by ongoing case reviews

My Emergency Doctor FACEM credentials

CONTACT US TODAY
to discover how our team of FACEMs
can assist your team

Gary White, Director of Strategy and Expansion
gwhite@myemergencydr.com.au 0426 518 538
myemergencydr.com/easter

MEET SOME OF OUR SENIOR EMERGENCY SPECIALISTS

DR JUSTIN BOWRA
FOUNDER AND MEDICAL DIRECTOR

A Fellow of the Australasian College for Emergency Medicine (FACEM), Dr Bowra is an experienced senior emergency physician with more than 25 years experience working in the hospital system, both in Australia and overseas. He is the ACEM representative on the ultrasound group of the International Federation of Emergency Medicine, a Professor for the Ultrasound Leadership Academy, and Director of Emergency Ultrasound at Royal North Shore Hospital (NSW). Dr Bowra is also a published author (Emergency Ultrasound Made Easy, Bowra and McLaughlin, 2nd ed and Point of Care Ultrasound for Emergency Medicine and Resuscitation, 1st ed) and is also a Medical Advisor to Echonus Pty Ltd.

ASSOC. PROFESSOR
RICHARD PAOLONI
CHIEF MEDICAL ADVISOR

Assoc. Professor Paoloni is the Chief Medical Advisor for My Emergency Doctor, coordinating the activities of the FACEMs employed by the company. He is an experienced senior emergency physician, Fellow of the Australasian College for Emergency Medicine (FACEM) and an Associate Professor with the University of Sydney. He was also Chair of the ACEM Workforce Subcommittee for eight years and a member of the ACEM Standards Committee. His previous roles include the NSW Faculty Chair of ACEM and Director of Emergency Medicine at Concord Hospital (NSW).

DR CATHERINE KIZANA
EMERGENCY SPECIALIST (FACEM)

Dr Catherine Kizana was born in London, UK. She studied an undergraduate medical degree in Birmingham before moving countries to Australia to complete her fellowship with the Australasian College of Emergency Medicine. For the four years following her accredited degree, Dr Kizana worked as a senior emergency specialist doctor at Blacktown Hospital (NSW). Dr Kizana considers her greatest asset to be her passion for communication. She approaches a medical assessment by carefully listening to her patients and taking the time to navigate a complete understanding of their symptoms. Additionally, she prides herself on uncomplicated delivery of medical reviews that leaves her patients feeling safe, reassured, and well looked after.

DR SUE IERACI
EMERGENCY SPECIALIST (FACEM)

Dr Sue Ieraci studied a medical degree at the University of Sydney, graduating in 1983. She did her internship and most of her post-graduate training at St Vincents Hospital (NSW) before achieving her Fellowship in Emergency Medicine at the Australasian College for Emergency Medicine in 1990. Her first consultant position was in Vancouver, Canada, before returning to continue her specialist career in Australia. Dr Ieraci thoroughly enjoys conversing with people and throughout her medical career she has actively participated in writing and vocalising her passion for patient-centred care. She has contributed to the Textbook of Adult Emergency Medicine, 4th Edition (Jelinek ed.) and writes for The Medical Journal of Australia's blog site, MJA Insight.

DR ANDREW DEAN
EMERGENCY SPECIALIST (FACEM)

Dr Andrew Dean has been a practising emergency specialist doctor (FACEM) for nearly 30 years, working at St John of God Hospital Ballarat (VIC). In 1984 Dr Dean completed his medical degree at the University of Melbourne, and moved to Ballarat Base Hospital (VIC) to undertake post-graduate training. He worked briefly in general practice also, and achieved his Fellowship of the Australasian College for Emergency Medicine in 1992. Dr Dean has been involved with leadership in clinical, administrative and educational roles since then, and is actively involved teaching medical students in his Emergency Department whenever he works. His areas of interest include risk management, clinical simulation and team building in critical care areas.

DR KIMBERLY BOOTH
EMERGENCY SPECIALIST (FACEM)

Dr Kimberly Booth studied a medical degree at UNSW. She went on to complete her Fellowship at the Australasian College for Emergency Medicine and was awarded the Buchanan prize for coming first in her final year clinical exams. Dr Booth began her career at hospitals located in Canberra (ACT), Albany (NSW), Tamworth (NSW) and Sydney (NSW). Her in-depth medical training enabled her to develop a diverse skill set as she received practice in areas of respiratory, psychiatric, neurology and surgical medicine. Her greatest passion in medicine is helping her patients to seek a solution. Today, Dr Booth works part-time at The Royal Hobart Hospital (TAS) and with My Emergency Doctor.

DR FARZAD JAZAYERI
EMERGENCY SPECIALIST (FACEM)

Dr Farzad Jazayeri was born in Iran, where he studied a medical degree at Tehran University. He moved to Australia after he completed his degree and began working at St Vincent's Hospital (NSW) as an emergency physician. Now working part-time at St Vincent's hospital, Dr Jazayeri is a devoted teacher and examiner at the Australasian College for Emergency Medicine. In early 2020, Dr Jazayeri and the medical team at St Vincent's Hospital established Flexi Clinic, a new initiative aimed to achieve better health outcomes to members of the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community. He finds it highly rewarding to advocate for the equality of access to health care and is determined to continue his work in this field.

DR MARIAN LEE
EMERGENCY SPECIALIST (FACEM)
PAEDIATRICIAN

Dr Marian Lee studied medicine at the University of Melbourne and proceeded to complete her medical training at Royal Melbourne Hospital (VIC). She then moved to Sydney where she studied pediatrics for a year, followed by training at Liverpool Hospital (NSW). In 1996, Dr Lee was accredited her Fellowship in emergency medicine at the Australasian College for Emergency Medicine. She has worked clinically in Emergency Medicine since attaining her specialist qualification and has been involved in all aspects of emergency medicine including management and education. She is also an actively involved in the Australasian College for Emergency Medicine.

CONTACT US TODAY
to discover how our team of FACEMs
can assist your team

Gary White, Director of Strategy and Expansion
gwhite@myemergencydr.com.au 0426 518 538
myemergencydr.com/easter